Preface

The Source PDFs in this series will differ from my “Global Coup Related Specific Topic PDFs” that cover topics with narrative, quotes from sources, and linked footnotes. The intention is for these source documents to have a minimum of text. The idea is to assemble a library of sources for a broad spectrum of Global Coup related topics.

I have not vetted all of the information contained in the linked-to reports, articles, and videos. As always don't take my or anybody's word for anything outright. Realize your own agency and recognize that trust in information can be nuanced.

Overview

This PDF will be in four parts.

The first part, Vaccine Injury Data Sources, will provide sources for information (data) about adverse events, the fallout from the Covid injections, which can be used as an ongoing reference for those wishing to go deeper and do their own analysis.

The second part, Reports Based on and Interpretation of the Data, will provide links to websites (individuals and organizations) who are digging into the data themselves. This includes analysis and studies.

The third part, Testimonials, will be links to many sites that feature individuals' testimonies about their experiences after getting the injection.

The fourth part, Articles and Videos, is links to material related to the injections' fallout. Included are several sections about specific issues.

Several Notes

Note that the second, third, and fourth parts are all just a sampling of reports, studies, articles, and videos. I believe some of the more important voices are represented here but the selection is necessarily limited by space and my personal awareness. Luckily, many of the included sources have many links to more sources.

Note, however, that all too often, links to "official" sites may turn out to be dead links. Information is being scrubbed regularly. Likewise some private sites may also get taken down as censorship rages on.

Note that the word "vaccination" in the title is in quotation marks to emphasize that many of the Covid shots (the mRNA and Adenovirus Genetic) are not vaccines by the long standing definition of vaccines. Semantics aside, this is about the injections going into the arms of people all around the world and for the most part will be referred to as injections in this paper.

Finally, a personal note: Statistics fascinate me but baffle me. I've heard it said that "you can torture any confession out of a statistic". Though the evidence seems to overwhelmingly show that the injections are responsible for an unprecedented amount of adverse events, this paper will endeavor to refrain from conclusions and just present information. Having said that it will link to sources and videos that I have, with my bias, chosen to offer because I think they are sources of integrity. But don't trust me. Make up your own mind.

And dear reader, please consider the information that I present from the sources as a tease intended to draw you into further exploring on your own.

In What Countries are the Different Kinds of Vaccine Being Used

First, to better appraise the fallout from the injections we should know from which country the reports are coming and which type of injection or injections are being used in that country as there are several different technologies being used to manufacture them, some using more traditional vaccine technology and some using exotic genetic technology.

List of COVID-19 vaccine authorizations

Information on the Wikipedia website. For each of the 34 vaccines it lists, it shows a map of where they are being used and a list of the countries using it.

The vaccines are shown below by type as indicated in the article. The description of each type of vaccine comes from their respective Wikipedia articles.

- 1) Inactivated Virus Vaccine: Sinopharm BIBP, CoronaVac, Covaxin, Sinopharm WIBP, QazCovid-in, Minhai, CoviVac, COVIran Barekat, Chinese Academy of Medical Sciences, Fakhravac, Turkovac, VLA2001.

An inactivated vaccine is a vaccine consisting of virus particles, bacteria, or other pathogens that have been grown in culture and then killed to destroy disease-producing capacity.

- 2) mRNA Vaccine: Pfizer-BioNTech, Moderna.

An mRNA vaccine uses a copy of a molecule called messenger RNA (mRNA) to produce an immune response. The vaccine delivers molecules of antigen-encoding mRNA into immune cells, which use the designed mRNA as a blueprint to build foreign protein that would normally be produced by the virus. These protein molecules stimulate an adaptive immune response that teaches the body to identify and destroy the virus.

3) DNA Vaccine: ZyCoV-D.

DNA vaccines work by injecting genetically engineered plasmid containing the DNA sequence encoding the antigen(s) against which an immune response is sought, so the cells directly produce the antigen, thus causing a protective immunological response.

4) Viral Vector (adenovirus vector) Vaccine: Oxford-AstraZeneca, Janssen-Johnson and Johnson, Sputnik-V, Sputnik Light, Convidecia.

A viral vector vaccine is a vaccine that uses a viral vector to deliver genetic material coding for a desired antigen into the recipient's host cells.

5) Subunit (various types): Novavax, Abdala, EpiVacCorona, Zifivax, Soberana 02, Medigen, COVAX-19, Razi Cov Pars, Sinopharm CNBG, Corbevax, Soberana Plus, CoVLP (GSK), Noora, Sanofi-GSK, SCB-2019.

A subunit vaccine contains purified parts of the pathogen that are antigenic, or necessary to elicit a protective immune response. A "subunit" vaccine doesn't contain the whole pathogen, unlike live attenuated or inactivated vaccine, but contains only the antigenic parts such as proteins, polysaccharides or peptides.

Data Sources

VAERS, the Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System

In the United States VAERS is a major source for information about adverse events from vaccines. VAERS stands for Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System. It is a part of the CDC and the statistics are to be found on the CDC's website.

VAERS Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System

From the About page on the CDC website::

Established in 1990, the Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System (VAERS) is a national early warning system to detect possible safety problems in U.S.-licensed vaccines.

How VAERS works from the About page:

VAERS accepts and analyzes reports of adverse events (possible side effects) after a person has received a vaccination. Anyone can report an adverse event to VAERS. Healthcare professionals are required to report certain adverse events and vaccine manufacturers are required to report all adverse events that come to their attention.

VAERS is a passive reporting system, meaning it relies on individuals to send in reports of their experiences to CDC and FDA. VAERS is not designed to determine if a vaccine caused a health problem, but is especially useful for detecting unusual or unexpected patterns of adverse event reporting that might indicate a possible safety problem with a vaccine.

CDC WONDER - Search Current VAERS Data

A CDC VAERS data search resource.

VAERS Data Use Guide

PDF Published by HHS, November, 2020.

How Accurate is VAERS

VAERS statistics are certainly not exact, unlike data from a carefully overseen controlled study. Some insist that the actual number of events are much higher because, of course, not all are reported. While others maintain the actual numbers of events are lower because the reports can't be verified; appraisal of a medical condition is always subjective and one can never show 100% that the injection was the cause.

Following are several sources for information about VAERS' reliability.

Report an Adverse Event to VAERS

Web page from the CDC regarding the issue as to the possibility of fraudulent reporting. From the page, and printed in bold:

Knowingly filing a false VAERS report is a violation of Federal law (18 U.S. Code § 1001) punishable by fine and imprisonment.

Guide to Interpreting VAERS Data

From a CDC web page:

"Underreporting" is one of the main limitations of passive surveillance systems, including VAERS. The term, underreporting refers to the fact that VAERS receives reports for only a small fraction of actual adverse events.

What is underreporting and why it matters?

From an article published on the OpenVAERS website, April 21, 2022:

Further it [the Lazarus Report] [see the next link] states, "Adverse events from drugs and vaccines are common, but underreported. Although 25% of ambulatory patients experience an adverse drug event, less than 0.3% of all adverse drug events and 1-13% of serious events are reported to the Food and Drug Administration (FDA). Likewise, fewer than 1% of vaccine adverse events are reported."

Electronic Support for Public Health–Vaccine Adverse Event Reporting System \(ESP:VAERS\)

Report by Ross Lazarus - inclusive dates: 12/01/07 - 09/30/10. The report concludes that "fewer than 1% of vaccine adverse events are reported." And the last paragraph of the Results section states:

Unfortunately, there was never an opportunity to perform system performance assessments because the necessary CDC contacts were no longer available and the CDC consultants responsible for receiving data were no longer responsive to our multiple requests to proceed with testing and evaluation.

National Vaccine Information Center / MedAlerts

The National Vaccine Information Center is an alternate source for data and for searching data.

National Vaccine Information Center

From their About page:

Our Mission: The National Vaccine Information Center (NVIC) is dedicated to preventing vaccine injuries and deaths through public education and advocating for informed consent protections in medical policies and public health laws. NVIC defends the human right to freedom of thought and conscience and supports the inclusion of flexible medical, religious and conscientious belief exemptions in vaccine policies and laws.

Search the U.S. Government's VAERS Data

MedAlerts.org is the vaccine reaction search page for the National Vaccine Information Center. From the website:

Why this site? MedAlerts offers an alternative to the official VAERS search engine, CDC Wonder. Both are built from the government's raw data, but MedAlerts has a better user interface, more powerful search capabilities, and more extensive reporting, making it the best VAERS search facility.

MedAlerts has its own search engine, that uses VAERS as well as international data:

MedAlerts includes domestic and foreign cases, but other search engines show only domestic. NVIC has kept a vaccine adverse event database since 1982.

The Defense Military Epidemiology Database

Defense Medical Epidemiology Database | Health.mil

DMED is the data base on the Health.mil website, the official website of the military health system. From their About page:

DMED provides remote access to a subset of data contained within the Defense Medical Surveillance System (DMSS). DMSS contains up-to-date and historical data on diseases and medical events (e.g., hospitalizations, ambulatory visits, reportable diseases, etc.) and longitudinal data relevant to personnel characteristics and deployments experience for all active and reserve component service members. The DMED application provides a user-friendly interface to perform queries regarding disease and injury rates and relative burdens of disease in active component populations.

OpenVAERS

Another data resource is the OpenVAERS website. In their own words:

OpenVAERS is a private organization that posts publicly available CDC/FDA data of injuries reported post-vaccination. Reports are not proof of causality.

The OpenVAERS Project allows browsing and searching of the reports without the need to compose an advanced search.

Informed Consent Action Network (ICAN) Resources

The Informed Consent Action Network is the legal / activist branch of Del Bigtree's efforts to bring light to the criminality of the past several years. ICAN has been very active issuing FOIA requests and filing law suits.

Their mission from their home page:

At the Informed Consent Action Network, you are the authority over your health choices and those of your children. In a medical world manipulated by advertising and financial interests, true information is hard to find and often harder to understand. Our goal is to put the power of scientifically researched health information in your hands and to be bold and transparent in doing so, thereby enabling your medical decisions to come from tangible understanding, not medical coercion.

The CDC created v-safe, a smartphone-based program, to collect health assessments after Covid-19 vaccination. Approximately 10 million people signed-up and submitted health reports after Covid-19 vaccination.

ICAN's legal team sued the CDC twice leading to a court order requiring release of the data. ICAN has taken the CDC's official raw data and created a dashboard interface which allows users to graphically view the 144+ million health entries obtained by ICAN.

Insurance Claims Statistics

Here are two articles about the huge increase in all cause deaths as revealed by insurance company data.

Indiana life insurance CEO says deaths are up 40% among people ages 18-64

From the January 1, 2022 article on the Center Square website:

The head of Indianapolis-based insurance company OneAmerica said the death rate is up a stunning 40% from pre-pandemic levels among working-age people.

“We are seeing, right now, the highest death rates we have seen in the history of this business – not just at OneAmerica,” the company’s CEO Scott Davison said during an online news conference this week. “The data is consistent across every player in that business.”

From the June 15, 2022 article on the Crossroads Report website:

Five months after breaking the story of the CEO of One America insurance company saying deaths among working people ages 18-64 were up 40% in the third quarter of 2021, I can report that a much larger life insurance company, Lincoln National, reported a 163% increase in death benefits paid out under its group life insurance policies in 2021.

This is according to the annual statements filed with state insurance departments — statements that were provided exclusively to Crossroads Report in response to public records requests.

Data from the Defense Military Epidemiology Database (DMED) Exposed by Whistleblowers

This section is about something that is a much bigger story than will be presented here but deserves mention in this paper. It's about what appears to be a massive deception on the part of the Department of Defense.

The Department of Defense has its own system for tracking health and medical issues of service members, the Defense Military Epidemiology Database (which is linked to in the first part of this PDF).

Three whistleblowers, late 2021, came forward with evidence from the DMED of a dramatic increase in registered diagnoses of serious medical issues. After the DoD became aware of the evidence being released, they claimed the numbers the whistleblowers revealed were correct but the system had somehow been malfunctioning and had been showing numbers that were too low for the previous 5 years (the 5 years the whistleblowers were comparing 2021 with). And that now the data has been corrected and those apparently extraordinarily high numbers revealed by the whistleblowers were actually just normal.

Linked below is an article by Thomas Renz (the whistleblowers' lawyer), the data itself, then a lawsuit against the DoD, a letter from a Senator to the DoD, a video interview with Tom Renz and finally a couple of articles about the kerfuffle.

Renz Whistleblowers DMED DATA Reveals Incredibly Disturbing Spikes in Vaccine Injuries Across the Board

A page from Thomas Renz' website that has first a list of medical issues' increases, then links to the Ron Johnson Senate hearings, links to several articles (one linked to below), and finally a link to the whistleblower data (if you click on the spreadsheet looking image at the bottom of the page.)

Whistleblower DMED Data - Renz-Law w/ Repeated Header (pdf)

These three documents are the whistleblower's data in two spreadsheet formats and in PDF format. This is the document downloaded from Thomas Renz's website page linked to above, then modified by me by inserting copies of the header row, which explains what the columns mean, in several places in the chart so it is always easily referred to.

Thomas Renz, DMED Case - America's Frontline Doctors, et al, vs. the United States of America

A March 7, 2022 PDF of a legal suit that Thomas Renz, as lawyer for America's Frontline Doctors, et al, is bringing against the United States of America. From the document::

Each of the Whistleblowers independently queried the DMED database using the same queries. Each of the Whistleblowers obtained the same shocking results. Each of the Whistleblowers attempted to discredit and find an alternate explanation for the results, and each failed.

The DOD "glitch" story is absurd. It strains credulity that such a breathtaking error in the DMED database, which is heavily scrutinized by personnel throughout the DOD and other federal agencies, including the agencies employing the named Defendants, could have gone unnoticed for so long, including during the height of the pandemic in 2020.

Dr. Arne Burkhardt, retired professor, pathologist, 18-year head of the Institute of Pathology in Reutlingen testifies here about his autopsies of people who died after vaccination; included in his presentation are many images of irregularities / damage in the bodies of the victims.

Avital Livny

Avital Livny, is an Israeli mother of two who was horrified by the aggressive rollout of the injections and felt that people might be reached by video testimonials about adverse events. She created The Testimonies Project and has produced a documentary. Here she talks about the Fallout seen from the injections. (see the Video Testimonials section below)

Articles About the Fallout Based on the Data

This section is links to articles about injection related issues. Most of these articles present data or refer to studies but as a part of an article, as opposed to studies with less narrative. They are ordered from most recent first to oldest.

Are the mRNA Vaccines Gene Therapy and Do They Affect Your Genome?

The first two links below are videos where people in the Big Pharma world talk about what mRNA "vaccines" are and/or do. Following is a Swedish study that shows that the mRNA doesn't just disappear when its job is done.

Stefan Oelrich, Bayer executive says mRNA Vaccines are Gene Therapy

A Ted Talk video, November 2017. Dr. Tal Zaks, Moderna's Chief Medical Officer describing what Moderna does. From the talk:

We are actually hacking the software of life. In every cell, there is mRNA that transmits the critical information that determines what a cell will actually do. We think of it like an operating system. If one could introduce a line of code or change a line of code, that has profound implications for everything.

Intracellular Reverse Transcription of Pfizer BioNTech COVID-19 mRNA Vaccine BNT162b2 In Vitro in Human Liver Cell Line pdf (PDF)

Study done at the Department of Clinical Sciences, Lund University, Malmö, Sweden, published February 25, 2022. From the Abstract:

Preclinical studies of COVID-19 mRNA vaccine BNT162b2, developed by Pfizer and BioNTech, showed reversible hepatic effects in animals that received the BNT162b2 injection. Furthermore, a recent study showed that SARS-CoV-2 RNA can be reverse-transcribed and integrated into the genome of human cells.

Q&A: COVID-19 vaccine study gains attention

There has been a lot of debate about this study. Debunked, of course, by "fact checkers" and interpreted by those aware of the dangers of the mRNA vaccines as proof of the human genome being altered. There are a myriad articles debating this online but here is one on the Lund University website where two of the scientists who did the study, in a short interview, give an appraisal of their findings using layman's language. We present here our research on the presence of graphene in covid vaccines. We have carried out a random screening of graphene-like nanoparticles visible at the optical microscopy in seven random samples of vials from four different trademarks, coupling images with their spectral signatures of RAMAN vibration.

Toxicity of graphene-family nanoparticles: a general review of the origins and mechanisms (PDF)

Pre-Covid Era study about nanoparticles published on the Biomedcentral website, October 31, 2016. From the study:

GFNs [graphene-family nanomaterials] reach various locations through blood circulation or biological barriers after entering the body, which results in varying degrees of retention in different organs. Due to their nanosize, GFNs can reach deeper organs by passing through the normal physiological barriers, such as the blood-air barrier, blood-testis barrier, blood-brain barrier and blood-placental barrier.
